LOCAL HOSPITAL GETS $4,000 APPROPRIATION FROM STATE

Solons at Harrisburg Decline to Raise Amount Additional Thousand

NOW UP TO THE COMMUNITY

More And Must be Extended—Woman's Auxiliary Formed Wednesday, When Plans are Laid for Flag Day on Saturday, May 29.

When the hospit al appropriations for Western Pennsylvania institutions were reported from the senate committee and sent to the governor for approval at Harrisburg Wednesday, the Charleroi-Monessen hospital appropriation of $1,000 for two years was included. The setting of the amount indicated that efforts of local people to have the amount raised to $5,000 had been in vain. The Monongahela Memorial hospital received $13,000 by the finding of the senate, the Brownsville General hospital $45.000, the Canonsburg General hispital $4,000, the Washington City hospital $10,000 and the Washington hospital $6,300.

The $4,000, which makes $2,000 for each year, will be used entirely for maintenance, nothing being granted for the building fund. Four thousand dollars was the sum specified in the recommendation of the Charities committee, which made a visit here.

The sum appropriated means that the community will have to extend greater aid to the hospital. Plans to that end are under way. A meeting of the board was held Tuesday night and the increasing needs of the institution were noted.

An organization that promises much of benefit to the hospital was formed Wednesday by women of Charleroi in the Women's Hospital auxiliary. Mrs. Emma Dawson presided as chairman and there was a general discussion of plans.

It was decided to hold a flag day on May 29, at which time flags will be sold for the benefit of the hospital. Arrangements for this sale will be made as rapdly as possible by the auxiliary.

WIRELESS PLANT AT 920 M'KEAN

Joseph Malarkey Establishing Telegraph System of His Own on Housetop

IS A STREET CAR MOTORMAN

A peculiar looking group of wires arranged over the housetop at 920 McKean avenue has within the last few weeks been attracting considerable attention among people of Charleroi and travelers on the street car past this dwelling. To those familiar with such things more than idle curiosity has been aroused, for they have recognized in the well arranged group part of a wireless telegraph apparatus.

The apparatus is the property of Joseph Malarkey, a street car motorman of the Pittsburg-Charleroi line. With a close relative who made his home here for a time he erected the station and shortly will have all the apparatus here and in shape for operation.

The wires of the apparatus much resemble the average wireless station though there is only one high pole, the wires stretching from there to a point in the yard. That the apparatus will work, there is little doubt, for the relative of Malarkey's tested it and proved it when he was here and he has had experience with such things.

APRIL GOOD MONTH AT PLATE GLASS FACTORY

Carara Department Operates Steadily and Orders Are Coming in Fairly Well—Some Improvement Shown in Conditions

April was a good month at the local plant of the Pittsburg Plate Glass company, though no figures of production have been given out by Superintendent Lee Showers.

At the presnt time the Carara department is practically the only department being operated to any extent in the manufacturing line. Part of the plant of course is used as a warehouse.

Orders are keeping up pretty well, considering the general condition of affairs the country over. The last year has been none too good a business year with the Pittsburg Plate Glass company and the local plant has suffered to some extent. From 100 to 150 men are usually employed here.

COMPLAINS THAT WIFE WAS ALREADY MARRIED

Charleroi Man Files Suit For Divorce Alleging That Legal Separation From Former Husband Had Never Been Obtained.

Averring that his wife, Hattie Davis, alias Stella Good, had a husband at the time she was married to him John T. Davis of Charleroi, has filed a petition for a decree annulling the marriage ceremony with Hattie Davis. He did not know of her first marriage he avers at the time he entered into the marriage contract with her.

He was married to Hattie Davis at Pittsburg on October 28, 1911. She at that time lived in Coraopolis and he lived at Charleroi. They lived together at Charleroi until April 7 of this year. The petitioner sets forth that he has been reliably informed and can prove that at the time of his marriage to Hattie Davis, alias Stella Good, she had a husband living, from whim she had a husband living, from whom she had not been divorced.

His name is Frank Good and he lives at Ellwood City, Lawrence county, and he was married to the defendant, Hattie Davis, alias Stella Good, on January 3, 1899 at Charleston, W. Va., and lived with her for some time.

It is averred by the petitioner that he was deceived and induced to enter into the bonds of matrimony and had he known that the defendant was a married woman he would not have done so. He now seeks an annullment of the marriage.

WILLIAM DALZELL, CIVIL WAR VETERAN, DIES AT HOME HERE

ECLIPSE MINE AT ROSCOE TO SUSPEND: LOW WATER IS CAUSE

Work at Roscoe by Pittsburg Coal Company Ordered Stopped Because Of Low Stage in Ohio.

Orders were issued Wednesday closing down the Eclipse mine at Roscoe of the Pittsburg Coal company indefinitely. The reason given was the low stage of water in the Ohio river which prevents shipments which is rather unusual for this time of the year.

The mining of coal was practically brought to a halt Wednesday at the Eclipse mine as today will be devoted to cleaning up the workings.

There is a rumor that the Alice mine of the same concern, located just across the river from Roscoe may close down within a few days for the same reason.

ELDORA GETS BIG VALLEY PICNIC

Donora Workingmen's Outing to be Held at Local Park on August 28

ROSCOE SCHOOLS SET DATE

While the work of brightening up things about Eldora park is going on booking of dates for the 1915 season is being continued. Within the last week two important outings were booked and the park management closed with John A. Weber of Finleyville to conduct Friday night dances throughout the season in accordance with the plan which held last season.

The Roscoe schools have selected May 25 as the date for their annual school picnic and arrangements are being made by committees for the affair. Special cars will carry the school children to the park, where they will be looked after and cared for by the park people.

One of the most important announcements to be made at this time is that of the booking of the date of Saturday, August 28, for the Donora workingmen's picnic. This is considered the largest industrial picnic held during the season from the Monongahela valley and this will be its first year at Eldora park. In the past this outing has gone to parks in the vicinity of Pittsburg. Superintendent Clark of the American Steel and Wire company at Donora and the committee of which he is the head closed with Assistant Manager Roy S. Sharpnack on the date without the last few days.

Weber's first Friday night dances at the park will be a complimentary affair on May 21, the opening night to his patrons. The dance floor is being scraped and put in good shape.

The Donora Steel Works' band has been engaged for the first Sunday concert of the season.

Well Known Old Soldier Answers Summons After Weeks of Suffering

SAW MUCH HARD FIGHTING

Was in Battle of Antietem and Battle of Gettysburg as Member of Famous Hampton Battery. Recruited at Pittsburg.

In the death this morning of William Dalzell, aged 69, one of the best known old soldiers and one who had participated in as much hard fighting in the Civil war as perhaps any in that grim struggle, answered the summons. Mr. Dalzell died at 2.15 o'clock at his home at 426 Washington avenue after weeks of suffering from various diseases.

Mr. Dalzell was born in Ireland and came to this country at an early age. He married in Pittsburg, to which point the family came, his bride being Eva W. Roll of Pittsburg.

When war between the north and the south came, Mr. Dalzell became a member of the famous Hampton independent battery, which was recruited at Pittsburg by Capt. Hampton. With this battery, known as Company F, he fought through some of the hardest and most noted campaigns. He went through the Seven Days fight and battled at Antietem, and was at Gettysburg, where he participated in the battle that was the turning point of the entire war. In spite of his hard service, Mr. Dalzell escaped with life and limb, barely scarred.

Mr. Dalzell is a member of Hampton's Battery Association of Pittsburg and of Child's G. A. R. Post, No. 230 of Pittsburg. He was also an Odd Fellow being affiliated with the Iron City lodge of Pittsburg. He has resided in Charleroi about 28 years and was a shovel worker. Last Friday he celebrated his 69th birthday. Besides the widow, just one son, John Dalzell of Charleroi survives.

Funeral services will be conducted at the late home tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock by Rev. John R. Burson of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church. The body will be taken to Pittsburg on Saturday and further services will be held at the home of a relative at 2001 Forbes street that city at 2 o'clock. Interment will be in the Homewood cemetery. Members of the Veteran Guard of Charleroi and members of the local lodge of Odd Fellows will attend in a body the services at the home tomorrow night.

Leonard Sands of Bentleyville was a caller in Charleroi Thursday.

WHAT NATURALIZATION MEANS

What does naturalization mean? That is a question that has been heard frequently of late and the Pittsburg Dispatch answers it as follows:

Naturalization laws of the United States have been an outgrowth of the vast imigration of citizens of foreign countries who knew they could better their condition by rooting themselves in the New World, the great mass with the intention of becoming permanent citizens, tens of thousands being sturdy young men who left their native land to escape a hated compulsory military service.

Any immigrant desiring to become an American citizen may file his declaration to this effect in the clerk's office of any court having jurisdiction over the place of his residence at the age of 18 years. He must give a complete account of himself and declare that it is his bona fide intention to become a citizen of the United States and to renounce forever all allegiance and fidelity to any foreign prince, potentate or sovereignty, and particularly to the country of which he may have been a citizen or subject and when such applicant attains to his majority he may become a full-fledged citizen. Other liberal provisions are made, all to further the facility with which aliens may become sworn and loyal citizens of the United States.

No declarations could be more solemn or honorably binding than that of the surrender of all allegiance in word and action to the government of which he had been a citizen or subject. Any violation of his solemn obligation is perjury and treason in the same breath with perjury. Naturalized aliens and sons and daughters of such former aliens should remember that their oath binds them as citizens to America first, last and all the time.

One of the most vital of the utterances to thousands of naturalized citizens by President Wilson at Philadelphia Monday was this:

"While you bring all countries with you, you come with a purpose of leaving all other countries behind you, bringing what is best of their spirit, but not looking over your shoulder or seeking to perpetuate what you leave in them. I would not certainly be one who would suggest that a man cease to love the place of his origin. It is one thing to love the place where you were born and another to dedicate yourself to the place where you go. You can't be an American if you think of yourself in groups. A man who considers himself as belonging to a national group is not yet an American."

FULL CREW LAW REPEAL

It is to be hoped that Governor Brumbaugh approves the full crew law repealer as it has passed both branches of the legislature at Harrisburg. The removal of this objectionable and useless statute is necessary if we are to maintain our reputation for fairness and justice to all.

The railroads have fought openly and abovebeard in their efforts to have the measure revoked. Their campaign has been conducted along the lines of publicity and their endeavors to convince the public of the detrimental effects of the law have been characterized by an apparently sincerity of purpose. There has been none of the old-fashioned "public be damned" unreasonableness or harshness about their arguments or the presentation of them.

The operation of the full crew law has hampered progress by compelling railroads to give undue attention to some departments of operation to the detriment of others. It has caused them needless and therefore wasteful expenditure without helping the service any. In safety first matters the law has had no beneficial effect.

Railroads are not going to fight a good law. Certainly they should be compelled to sufficiently man their trains and should be made answerable for failures, but a law infinitely more just than the present should be the guidance. The present law will surely be repealed, and then will follow an attempt to pass another. When that time comes railroads transportation experts and safety first experts, among others, should be consulted, that the law may be made plain, definite and just.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

A reader of the Picked up in Passing column has handed in a clipping with the following story:

The handsome young minister always stationed himself at the church door after the service to greet his parishoners as they filed out.

One Sabbath morning along came a raw Swedish maiden, a stranger, so, with his usual cordiality, the minister grasped her hand and said: "I am very glad to see you here this morning. Will you not tell me your name and address, so that I may call on you soon?"

The maid looked him cool in the eye and withdrawing her hand, replied, "I t'ank you, but I got one steady fella already; he come twice a week, and I t'ank he no like you to come."

The following fable which is probably of Turkish origin, is not without a touch of truth: As a woman was walking a man looked at and followed her.

"Why," said she, "do you follow me?"

"Because," he replied, "I have fallen in love with you."

"Why so? My sister, who is coming after me is much handsomer than I am. Go and make love to her."

The man turned back and saw a woman with an ugly face and being greatly displeased returned and said, "Why should you tell me a falsehood?"

The woman answered, "Neither did you tell the truth; for if you were in love with me, why did you look back for another woman?"—Pathfinder.

The reason why a woman knows that her hat is right in style this year is because it looks like something that the garbage man refused to carry away.

It isn't always love that makes a woman cop out a human wart hog for a husband. It is usually the fear that some other woman will marry him.

Marriage is the alarm clock that makes love's young dream wake up and rub its eyes.

INSTRUCTIVE PROGRAM PRESENTED BY CIRCLE

Child Welfare Association Takes up Discussion of Matters of Public and General Interest—Home Gardens To Become Reality.

The Charleroi Child Welfare circle held their regular monthly meeting in the high school auditorium Wednesday afternoon with the president, Mrs. W. B. Pfleghardt presiding. A very interesting and instructive program was carried out.

Papers on the following topics were read, "Home making Versus Housekeping," Mrs. J. D. Berryman; "The Art of Homemaking," Mrs. Harry C. Yon; "Education of Women for the Profession of Life," Mrs. F. C. Stahlman; "The School Begins to Prepare for the Home," Mrs. F. W. Lovejoy. The various subjects were discussed by members in a creditable manner. Mrs. Herman Tweed rendered a vocal solo and a reading was given by Mrs. Charles Wyatt.

The home gardening subject, which was proposed by the circle was taken up and plans put under way to have gardens and flower beds in various parts of the town. In order that they may raise funds to help carry on the work the circle will hold a benefit tea at the homes of Mrs. W. B. Pfleghardt and Mrs. McCook on Wednesday May 19 from 3 to 5 and 7 to 9. The meeting adjourned to hold the next regular meeting Wednesday, May 26.

Wins Test Over 40 Cars

Result of the great Yale University Sheffield Scientific School Test. Of the forty automobiles tested at the famous Sheffield Scientific School laboratory the Maxwell stands first in economy of Gasoline consumption.

MECHANICAL ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT
SHEFFIELD SCIENTIFIC SCHOOL
YALE UNIVERSITY

NEW HAVEN, CONNECTICUT

May 1st 1915.

The Biever Motor Car Company,
1079 Chapel Street
New Haven, Conn.

Gentlemen:-

I am enclosing report of test of your Maxwell automobile recently made in our laboratory.

I should like to add the following comments;

1. RELIABILITY OF TEST.

A preliminary test was made on April 19th, using a new car which was rather stiff. The showing was so good that we decided to make a second test. This was made on April 30th, using same car. On this test, the car showed less stiffness and the performance was better than on the first car. The second test was supervised by our most careful experts, and the results, I believe to be perfectly reliable.

2. MILEAGE.

The efficiency of the Maxwell automobile as indicated by the number of miles on a level road, is exceptionally high. This mileage record is better than that of any one of forty automobiles tested in our laboratory to date.

3. MOTOR PERFORMANCE.

The efficiency of the motor and carburetor as indicated by the pounds of gasoline used per hour per horse-power at rear tires, is exceedingly good, and indicates very perfect carburetor action over the whole range of speed and load. This record like that on mileage per gallon, is the best one that we have had.

Very truly yours,

E. H. Lockwood

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR MECHANICAL ENGINEERING.

WOMEN HONORED FOR VALOR

France Has Always Been in the Lead in Recognizing the Services of the Fair Sex.

Seldom in the world's history have women been decorated for valor on the battlefield, for the simple reason that opportunities for deeds which would earn them such decorations are very few. Nevertheless, instances can be found, and nowhere more than in France, where the heroic woman has little to complain of as regards public recognition of her services.

Since Napoleon founded the Cross of the Legion of Honor on May 19, 1802, probably a score or more women have been decorated for personal bravery in warfare, but unfortunately only one or two of their names have been preserved, as the palace of the Legion d'Honneur was burned during the commune and all records were destroyed.

Napoleon decorated at least seven women for valor. The chief of these was Anne Biget (Soeur Marthe), who was a sister of mercy, and earned the Cross of Legion of Honor for her devotion to the sick and wounded, in the care of whom she risked her life constantly. The other women on whom Napoleon bestowed the cross were disciples of Joan of Arc, who shared the perils and hardships of their men folk, enlisting and fighting gallantly.

Another woman earned the decoration for valor when France was fighting Germany in 1870. Mlle. Dodu, a postmistress at Pithviers, a village which had fallen into the hands of the invaders, destroyed a message which she had been ordered to transmit. For this she was court-martialed by the Germans and condemned to death. On the arrival of Prince Frederick, however, she was released, the prince himself complimenting her on her courage.

FISH GATHER IN MILLIONS

Remarkable Schools of Herrings That Annually Assemble on the North Pacific Coast.

Every summer there is a remarkable run of herring on the north Pacific coast. These fish come in such shoals that they seem a solid moving mass. They crowd into the inlets and sheltered bays and can be taken in millions by the simplest means.

Men and boys on the Grand Trunk Pacific dock at Prince Rupert use waste paper baskets, and similar utensils, which, with rope attached are thrown into the water and allowed to sink below the surface, then hauled in again full of overflowing with lovely herring.

But a better idea of the density of these schools of fish is afforded by the fact that fishing lines with hook attached can be sunk in the water, and pulled out instantly with just as many fish as there are hooks, be there a dozen or fifty.

Tons of these herring are taken by the fish companies and frozen in boxes for use as bait for the halibut fisheries. They are an excellent table fish, and there ought to be a profitable market for them in the interior. As yet comparatively few of them are shipped, though dealers are now calling for them.

Fishermen say the herrings seek the bays to escape the whales, which prey on them in certain localities during their migrations.

Working a Ship to Death.

A curious instance of a craft being worked to death is reported from Baltimore, where the schooner Johnnie Green was seized for claims by the crew. There was due the six men the sum of $192.30, which under normal conditions might be raised by a mortgage on the boat. "But she's got enough mortgages on her now to sink her," said Captain White, "and I could not borrow another cent. There's $700 or $800 lent on her already." When told that the Johnnie Green was forty-two years old, and had been in the bay service all of that time, Marshal Stockham was ready to believe that no more money could be borrowed on her. He ordered her taken in charge and a watchman put aboard. —Nautical Gazette.

Defective.

A farmer, in looking his car over one day, thrust a lighted match into the gasoline tank. The ensuing explosion laid him up for several weeks. On the first day that he was able to be about he visited the storekeeper who had sold him the stuff and demanded compensation.

"Why should I pay you anything?" asked the merchant hotly. "It was your own fault. You knew it was gasoline."

"That's all right, but this accident was caused by defective gasoline."

"Defective gasoline?"

"Yes, sir. I've been sticking matches into gasoline that I've bought here before, and this was the first lot that ever acted that way."

Canton Ivory Shops.

There are about forty shops in Canton, China, where articles of ivory are made and sold. The industry may be divided into two stages, cutting and carving. Tusks imported from Siam constitute the raw material. These are first cut with a saw to the shape capable of being worked up by carving. The carving apparatus consists of a wooden block, a saw and a tub of water. The ivory is secured firmly, moistened with water, and cut the required shape. The cutting finished, the blocks are then carved into shape with knives of many different shapes.

PROTEST HAD MUCH WEIGHT

Woman's Speech Reached the Conscience of All People Who Had a Desire to Think.

We have now before us an account in the Hereford Times of the fine protest made by Mrs. Davis in court at the recent Herefordshire assizes. The case was the trial of a domestic servant for causing the death of her newborn child. She was found guilty and sentenced by Mr. Justice Avory to six months' imprisonment, she having been already imprisoned since November. On hearing the sentence, Mrs. Davis, who with her husband, Rev. G. M. Davis, assistant vicar choral of Hereford cathedral, has done so much for the protection of women against injustice, rose in court and protested against the proceedings as unfair. "If the father of the child were here," she began, but interruptions made her inaudible. "no man would dare to pass sentence," she continued; but the judge ordered her to be turned out of court. While the police were carrying out the order Mrs. Davis repeated, "I protest as a woman and a mother." After she had been removed the judge gave instruction that "that woman" should not be admitted again; but her point had been gained. Mrs. Davis, by her action revealed not only to the court, but to the whole surrounding district, that, in all justice, the man who is at least equally guilty with the woman in these cases should not escape scot-free while all punishment falls on the woman. This might seem an axiom of law, but it is not law at all, and both judges and laymen appear surprised at it.—London Votes for Women.

MADE SELECTION OF NURSES

Clever Old German Surgeon Tried Ruse That Proved Many Unfit to Serve.

A wise old surgeon in one of the big garrison cities of Germany was called upon recently to select nurses to go to the front. A class of 20 had completed their training and were brought before him.

"I congratulate you," he began, "on your willingness to serve the cause of the fatherland. Previous experiences, however, have shown me that all does not go well with those serving in the sanitary divisions, that the work proved distasteful to them. Will those who prefer to serve exclusively in the officers' ward please step forward?"

Shyly and blushingly, 15 of the 20 young women stepped out of the line, whereupon the surgeon continued in his amiable tones: "I thank you, ladies. Of your service I shall—not avail myself. Your decision indicates to me that you have not yet attained the necessary degree of earnestness required of those serving our wounded soldiers."

Then he selected the five who had remained in the original line.

A Ringing Reply.

Jaunting in the jungle has seemingly added orchids to the speech with which Mr. Roosevelt ornaments his social repartee, as the following incident will show:

A friend of the colonel's is the father of six daughters, who have recently acquired a sailboat. One of the girls was showing the craft to the former president a short time ago, when he said, with a puzzled frown:

"But I can't see the fitness of the boat's name: Chimes. Why did you call it that?"

"Oh," smiled the girl. "You see it's named after us—Charlotte, Hortense, Isabel, Mildred, Elise and Sylvia. We just used the first letters of our six names in order of age, and it happened that they spelled 'Chimes.'"

"Yes, yes, I see. Very appropriate," was the colonel's ready reply. "In fact, no name could be more so, in view of you girls being such belles."

Queen Victoria's Bible.

A revival of interest in religion is one of the features of the war. Soldiers going to the front have been supplied with Bibles and have been given splendid advice by their generals. Churches have been filled by those who have remained at home, for in a time of great catastrophe like this the mind of mankind instinctively turns to a Power higher than itself. This serves to recall the fact that the late Queen Victoria was an earnest student of the Bible and deeply interested in personal religion. In the British museum the visitor will find a copy of the pocket Testament which Queen Victoria gave to Lord Gower, on the flyleaf of which she wrote a couple of her favorite texts. The verses are I Cor. 13:4 and 8.—Leslie's.

Suspicious.

George W. Perkins said at a dinner:

"There are some people who insist on seeing an octopus in every trust. These people cross-question you as suspiciously as the young wife cross-questioned her husband after the banquet.

"A young husband attended his first banquet, and a few days afterward his wife said to him:

"'Howard, is it true that you were the only sober man at that banquet?'

"'No, of course not!' Howard indignantly answered.

"'Who was, then?' said his wife.

Causes of American Mortality.

The alarming increase in deaths from diseases of the heart, kidneys and blood vessels—170,000 in 1914—is, according to Dr. Louis Faugeres Bishop, largely the result of excessive meat eating.

OHIO WOMAN'S DROPSY CURED!

Tells Everybody How This Happy Result Was Produced.

"Deear Editor:—For a long time I had been suffering from dropsy. I had puffy pouches under my eyse. My feet, ankles and abdomen were swelled to twice their natural size and a finger pressure on the swellings left a white dent which remained for some time. This water often pressed against my heart and caused a smothering sensation. I had severe headaches, continuous backache, dizzy sensations and rheumatic pains throughout my entire body. The kidneys were off in their action and this poison backed up in my system. In spite of my doctoring and the taking of many remedies I obtained no relief.

Finally I was given a few Lloyd's kidney and rheumatism tablets, the new scientific prescription. These did me such good that I at once got a larger size and in a week's time all the swellings, backache, and other symptoms left me like magic. I now feel like a new woman. Lloyd's Tablets deserve all the credit for curing me of the trouble and ridding me of the terrible agony. I advise all to be sure and get from their druggist today. Lloyd's, the kind that cured me, and cleanse their kidneys before too late.

MURDER CASE RECALLED BY FILING OF SUIT

Husband of Mrs. Oliver J. Price of Rices Landing Accuses Man Now In Penitentiary of Feloniously Assaulting Grandchild.

The murder of Mrs. Oliver J. Price which took place at the Price homestead near Rices Landing on the night of September 1, 1913 and for which Walter Thomas is now serving a 10 year sentence in the penitentiary, has been recalled by an information which has been made against Thomas by Oliver J. Price, before Justice of the Peace L. W. Sayers at Waynesburg charging him with intent to commit murder on 10-year-old Bertha Fox, the grandchild of the murdered woman. The information has been returned to the clerk of court's office and will likely be placed before the next grand jury in June.

The crime was one of the worse ever committed in the county and attracted wide attention. At the time Mrs. Price was killed the perpetrator of the crime also badly injured the grandchild.

The child was found in the yard the following morning insensible and Thomas the farm hand, was missing and was later arrested near Washington.

He was taken to Waynesburg and last June was tried and convicted of second degree murder and later sentenced to 10 to 15 years in the penitentiary.

Thomas still has over nine years of his sentence to serve. It is not likely that he would be tried on this charge until his release. It is not known whether there has been any new evidence discovered or not. Mr. Price has stated that he wished to have the law take the full course in this matter.

VALLEY SLAVS APPEAL FOR AID FOR PLAGUE STRICKEN SERVIANS

"Worse than Belgium" is now the accepted verdict regarding the conditions in Servia. The Rockefeller Foundation War Relief commmission made public a report through the Associated Press on April 26, in which it was stated that on March 10 from 25.000 to 30,000 persons were suffering from typhus in the Servian capital, and this and other epidemics were swiftly enveloping the entire nation. Cholera was at that time expected with the arrival of the warm weather and no preparations had been made to combat it. Probably 300,000 persons were destitute and the impoverished little nation is powerless to control the situation, which the commission described as "not only a menace to the health of the Servian people, but of the whole world."

In view of these facts a committee has been formed for the purpose of helping materially people in Servia. An effort will be made to get the pastors of all denominations to co-operate in this great humanitarian work, by raising a special collection for the plague-ridden Servians. An apeal to all generous Americans is made, to contribute and help a little nation in its heroic struggle for independence.

Contributions may be sent to Rev. Vladimir M. Levkanich, chairman committee, pastor Russian Orthodox church, Monessen, Pa.
